FESTO KIVENGERE IN CHILE

The interdenominational, international and evangelical mission World Vision Incorporated has just sponsored its 85th Pastors' Retreat, the last three being held during September and October in the South American countries of Chile, Brazil, and Argentina, at which hundreds of pastors from all Protestant denominations gathered in fellowship.

The retreat in Chile was held in San Fernando, 40 miles east of Santiago, the capital, and the home of the Roman Catholic archbishop. The principal speaker for the week was the Rev. Festo Kivengere, a well known Anglican evangelist from Uganda in East Africa, and a preacher well known to many Christians in Australia from his visits here over recent years. He had also been on recent tours in Brazil and Colombia, but because of circumstances beyond his control was prevented from visiting Australia.

Other speakers included: Dr. Daniel Finch, Dean of the Latin American Institute of the Inter-Varsity Fellowship; Rev. Dr. Richard Halverson, Minister of the Fourth Presbyterian Church of Chicago; Rev. Harold Robinson from Westminster Avenue, Associate Secretary of Evangelism, London, and radio broadcaster; the Rev. Harold Butterley, a British Anglican missionary in Chile; and Mr. Butterley's brother, Mr. Harold Butterley, a British Anglican missionary in Chile.

The retreat was the daily meeting of prayer and teaching, the last day of which was devoted to the relay meeting in one of the main "plaza" (squares) of Valparaiso, followed by a march of witness through the main streets of the city. The latter made a part of the retreat was the decision to commence Evangelism in Depth in Latin America.

The Anglican Bishop of Valparaiso, the Rt. Rev. G. Blaxland, was a part of the retreat and the Anglican section of the World Vision retreat was coordinated by the Rev. Dr. Richard Halverson, General Secretary of the South American Missionary Society; Rev. Victor Roberts, General Secretary of the Latin American Missionary Society; Rev. Dr. Richard Halverson, Director of the Australian Missionary Society from its founding in 1844 to its commencement in Chile in 1972, and Mr. M. P. Roberts, General Secretary of the Latin American Missionary Society from its founding in 1844 to its commencement in Chile in 1972.

Mr. Kivengere is known as one of the outstanding leaders of the Church in Chile whatever he goes, and during the retreat in Valparaiso, this being especially true when he spoke his Anglican brethren in Chile. He is known as one of the outstanding leaders of the Church in Chile, and during the retreat in Valparaiso, this being especially true when he spoke his Anglican brethren in Chile.

Mr. Butterley is married with four children and he expects to take up his appointment early in February.

The money was spent by the Catholic Information Centre, which is based in Sydney but advertises in newspapers and magazines throughout the country.

The advertisements invite non-Roman Catholics to write for a free correspondence course on the Roman Catholic faith. The centre is paid for by "sponsoring" groups and individual donors.

The groups are made up of 10 or 12 people who each contribute $25 a month. There are 168 groups now operating.

R.C.'s spend $700,000 in drive for converts

According to a report in "The Australian," Australasian Roman Catholics spent $700,000 in the past twelve years in order to win non-Roman Catholics to their faith. In that time, 3368 people have been won to the Church of England.

The money was spent by the Catholic Information Centre, which is based in Sydney but advertises in newspapers and magazines throughout the country.

The advertisements invite non-Roman Catholics to write for a free correspondence course on the Roman Catholic faith. The centre is paid for by "sponsoring" groups and individual donors.

The groups are made up of 10 or 12 people who each contribute $25 a month. There are 168 groups now operating.

FESTO KIVENGERE IN CHILE

The interdenominational, international and evangelical mission World Vision Incorporated has just sponsored its 85th Pastors' Retreat, the last three being held during September and October in the South American countries of Chile, Brazil, and Argentina, at which hundreds of pastors from all Protestant denominations gathered in fellowship.

The retreat in Chile was held in San Fernando, 40 miles east of Santiago, the capital, and the home of the Roman Catholic archbishop. The principal speaker for the week was the Rev. Festo Kivengere, a well known Anglican evangelist from Uganda in East Africa, and a preacher well known to many Christians in Australia from his visits here over recent years. He had also been on recent tours in Brazil and Colombia, but because of circumstances beyond his control was prevented from visiting Australia.

Other speakers included: Dr. Daniel Finch, Dean of the Latin American Institute of the Inter-Varsity Fellowship; Rev. Dr. Richard Halverson, Minister of the Fourth Presbyterian Church of Chicago; Rev. Harold Robinson from Westminster Avenue, Associate Secretary of Evangelism, London, and radio broadcaster; the Rev. Harold Butterley, a British Anglican missionary in Chile; and Mr. Butterley's brother, Mr. Harold Butterley, a British Anglican missionary in Chile.

The retreat was the daily meeting of prayer and teaching, the last day of which was devoted to the relay meeting in one of the main "plaza" (squares) of Valparaiso, followed by a march of witness through the main streets of the city. The latter made a part of the retreat was the decision to commence Evangelism in Depth in Latin America.

The Anglican Bishop of Valparaiso, the Rt. Rev. G. Blaxland, was a part of the retreat and the Anglican section of the World Vision retreat was coordinated by the Rev. Dr. Richard Halverson, General Secretary of the South American Missionary Society; Rev. Victor Roberts, General Secretary of the Latin American Missionary Society; Rev. Dr. Richard Halverson, Director of the Australian Missionary Society from its founding in 1844 to its commencement in Chile in 1972, and Mr. M. P. Roberts, General Secretary of the Latin American Missionary Society from its founding in 1844 to its commencement in Chile in 1972.

Mr. Kivengere is known as one of the outstanding leaders of the Church in Chile whatever he goes, and during the retreat in Valparaiso, this being especially true when he spoke his Anglican brethren in Chile. He is known as one of the outstanding leaders of the Church in Chile, and during the retreat in Valparaiso, this being especially true when he spoke his Anglican brethren in Chile.

Mr. Butterley is married with four children and he expects to take up his appointment early in February.

The money was spent by the Catholic Information Centre, which is based in Sydney but advertises in newspapers and magazines throughout the country.

The advertisements invite non-Roman Catholics to write for a free correspondence course on the Roman Catholic faith. The centre is paid for by "sponsoring" groups and individual donors.

The groups are made up of 10 or 12 people who each contribute $25 a month. There are 168 groups now operating.

FESTO KIVENGERE IN CHILE

The interdenominational, international and evangelical mission World Vision Incorporated has just sponsored its 85th Pastors' Retreat, the last three being held during September and October in the South American countries of Chile, Brazil, and Argentina, at which hundreds of pastors from all Protestant denominations gathered in fellowship.

The retreat in Chile was held in San Fernando, 40 miles east of Santiago, the capital, and the home of the Roman Catholic archbishop. The principal speaker for the week was the Rev. Festo Kivengere, a well known Anglican evangelist from Uganda in East Africa, and a preacher well known to many Christians in Australia from his visits here over recent years. He had also been on recent tours in Brazil and Colombia, but because of circumstances beyond his control was prevented from visiting Australia.

Other speakers included: Dr. Daniel Finch, Dean of the Latin American Institute of the Inter-Varsity Fellowship; Rev. Dr. Richard Halverson, Minister of the Fourth Presbyterian Church of Chicago; Rev. Harold Robinson from Westminster Avenue, Associate Secretary of Evangelism, London, and radio broadcaster; the Rev. Harold Butterley, a British Anglican missionary in Chile; and Mr. Butterley's brother, Mr. Harold Butterley, a British Anglican missionary in Chile.

The retreat was the daily meeting of prayer and teaching, the last day of which was devoted to the relay meeting in one of the main "plaza" (squares) of Valparaiso, followed by a march of witness through the main streets of the city. The latter made a part of the retreat was the decision to commence Evangelism in Depth in Latin America.

The Anglican Bishop of Valparaiso, the Rt. Rev. G. Blaxland, was a part of the retreat and the Anglican section of the World Vision retreat was coordinated by the Rev. Dr. Richard Halverson, General Secretary of the South American Missionary Society; Rev. Victor Roberts, General Secretary of the Latin American Missionary Society; Rev. Dr. Richard Halverson, Director of the Australian Missionary Society from its founding in 1844 to its commencement in Chile in 1972, and Mr. M. P. Roberts, General Secretary of the Latin American Missionary Society from its founding in 1844 to its commencement in Chile in 1972.

Mr. Kivengere is known as one of the outstanding leaders of the Church in Chile whatever he goes, and during the retreat in Valparaiso, this being especially true when he spoke his Anglican brethren in Chile. He is known as one of the outstanding leaders of the Church in Chile, and during the retreat in Valparaiso, this being especially true when he spoke his Anglican brethren in Chile.

Mr. Butterley is married with four children and he expects to take up his appointment early in February.

The money was spent by the Catholic Information Centre, which is based in Sydney but advertises in newspapers and magazines throughout the country.

The advertisements invite non-Roman Catholics to write for a free correspondence course on the Roman Catholic faith. The centre is paid for by "sponsoring" groups and individual donors.

The groups are made up of 10 or 12 people who each contribute $25 a month. There are 168 groups now operating.
Youth – What's happening?

Our opportunities with young people are diminishing rapidly, if not coming to an end. We have been rather too satisfied with the work we have done in our churches with large groups of young people in fellowship teams, Bible studies and social activities.

Some strong and able leaders are in training, but this has not been an easy period, certainly not for the novice in youth work.
WE CARE FOR A LITTLE WHILE

Lots of families get into short-term difficulties. The mother has to go into hospital; or parents break up but there is a good chance of reconciliation; or the father gets into trouble with the police.

For one reason or another, one parent is left with two or three children and looks desperately for emergency help. The Church of England Homes has never been able to help before, but now it has a TEMPORARY CARE UNIT in the grounds of the Girls' Home at Carlingford.

Specialist staff and a social worker are caring in the name of Christ for boys and girls from families in temporary difficulties. If the trouble turns out to be long-term, then we can care for the children for the rest of their lives.

Meanwhile, we care for a little while. You can share in the care of this Temporary Care Unit by sending your donation to the Director, the Rev. F. J. Rice, 70 King St., Sydney 2000 or phone 29 2033.
BIBLE CROSSWORD NO. 43

We give you a new crossword puzzle every month in Bible Crossword No. 43, which should make this an interesting month. All answers come from the Revised Standard Version of the Bible.

1. A woman of the earth (13, 5, 3)
2. A woman of the earth (13, 5, 3)
3. A woman of the earth (13, 5, 3)
4. A woman of the earth (13, 5, 3)
5. A woman of the earth (13, 5, 3)

For help, see the previous issues.

1. A woman of the earth (13, 5, 3)
2. A woman of the earth (13, 5, 3)
3. A woman of the earth (13, 5, 3)
4. A woman of the earth (13, 5, 3)
5. A woman of the earth (13, 5, 3)

Crossword Prizes

1. The Lord promises assurance to all who call on Him (Ps. 34:6, 8).
2. The Lord promises assurance to all who call on Him (Ps. 34:6, 8).
3. The Lord promises assurance to all who call on Him (Ps. 34:6, 8).
4. The Lord promises assurance to all who call on Him (Ps. 34:6, 8).
5. The Lord promises assurance to all who call on Him (Ps. 34:6, 8).

Thousands inspect Tswaing church

5000 people inspected the flood decorations last month at St Luke’s, Tswaing, Q. as part of the city’s CENTENNIAL CELEBRATIONS.

Kindergarten teachers

The Sydney Kindergarten Teachers’ Association’s kindergarten teacher for its Centre in Green Valley. This is an opportunity for a dedicated Christian to share in a precious ministry with pre-literate people.

Please apply with references to Mrs M. Menzies, Green Valley Community Centre, Shapero Street, 607, 505;

Summer Institute of Linguistics

will be held at the University of New South Wales, 133 College St, Sydney, New South Wales.

Kindergarten Teachers

The Sydney Kindergarten Teachers’ Association’s kindergarten teacher for its Centre in Green Valley. This is an opportunity for a dedicated Christian to share in a precious ministry with pre-literate people.

Please apply with references to Mrs M. Menzies, Green Valley Community Centre, Shapero Street, 607, 505.

Tape and Cassette Bible Studies in Series by Arthur Deane

St Arnaud feels the pinch

The Archbishop of Melbourne has reported that the diocese of St Arnaud is taking strong measures to cope with the severe recession.

Key Books

ACKNOWLEDGE EDITOR INTRODUCES IMPORTANT NEW TITLES

The Church and the Present Crisis by Donald R. Young. Banner of Truth Trust. 1979. 224 pages.

Summer Institute of Linguistics

will be held at the University of New South Wales, 133 College St, Sydney, New South Wales.

Key Books

ACKNOWLEDGE EDITOR INTRODUCES IMPORTANT NEW TITLES

The Church and the Present Crisis by Donald R. Young. Banner of Truth Trust. 1979. 224 pages.

Summer Institute of Linguistics

will be held at the University of New South Wales, 133 College St, Sydney, New South Wales.

Key Books

ACKNOWLEDGE EDITOR INTRODUCES IMPORTANT NEW TITLES

The Church and the Present Crisis by Donald R. Young. Banner of Truth Trust. 1979. 224 pages.

Summer Institute of Linguistics

will be held at the University of New South Wales, 133 College St, Sydney, New South Wales.

Key Books

ACKNOWLEDGE EDITOR INTRODUCES IMPORTANT NEW TITLES

The Church and the Present Crisis by Donald R. Young. Banner of Truth Trust. 1979. 224 pages.
professor edwin judge reviews

CAMBRIDGE ANCIENT HISTORY

The various faculties of the book editors that have been publicized during the last five years are now summed up in this splendid four-and-ahalf-volume set. The editors have made the standard Cambridge style of doing things work in their favour.

The doubting of some certainly is needless, but the moral discovery over the last forty-five years has already been thoroughly produced in volume form by Radhika Major and Godfrey Smith, and one might wonder if the material is really as original and unexpected as some editors have said. The editors are not, however, new to the editors, and in the end, they are not new either.

There could be some who will feel the editors are misleading, but if they ever do, then, on a single occasion, their doing so will be only for the better. The editors have not been showing themselves as showing the way, and the editors have never been better.

Inquiries and applications are at stake. 'The origin of this material is not the only limitation for the general economy of the editors, and the editors have never been better when the volume is supposed to be the one that comes.

The editors' decision is likely to remain the editors without much change. It is not that the editors were answering the Zwinglians, but that the editors are answering the editors. Ronald K Nisbett is close to it.

In the New Testament, the editors' work is not even a little contrary to its interest in the editors. In the editors' case, it is because "seek ye first His Kingdom and His Righteousness," and His Kingdom is in the editors' case.

The editors' decision is likely to remain the editors without much change. It is not that the editors were answering the Zwinglians, but that the editors are answering the editors. Ronald K Nisbett is close to it.

In the New Testament, the editors' work is not even a little contrary to its interest in the editors. In the editors' case, it is because "seek ye first His Kingdom and His Righteousness," and His Kingdom is in the editors' case.

The editors' decision is likely to remain the editors without much change. It is not that the editors were answering the Zwinglians, but that the editors are answering the editors. Ronald K Nisbett is close to it.

In the New Testament, the editors' work is not even a little contrary to its interest in the editors. In the editors' case, it is because "seek ye first His Kingdom and His Righteousness," and His Kingdom is in the editors' case.

The editors' decision is likely to remain the editors without much change. It is not that the editors were answering the Zwinglians, but that the editors are answering the editors. Ronald K Nisbett is close to it.

In the New Testament, the editors' work is not even a little contrary to its interest in the editors. In the editors' case, it is because "seek ye first His Kingdom and His Righteousness," and His Kingdom is in the editors' case.

The editors' decision is likely to remain the editors without much change. It is not that the editors were answering the Zwinglians, but that the editors are answering the editors. Ronald K Nisbett is close to it.

In the New Testament, the editors' work is not even a little contrary to its interest in the editors. In the editors' case, it is because "seek ye first His Kingdom and His Righteousness," and His Kingdom is in the editors' case.

The editors' decision is likely to remain the editors without much change. It is not that the editors were answering the Zwinglians, but that the editors are answering the editors. Ronald K Nisbett is close to it.

In the New Testament, the editors' work is not even a little contrary to its interest in the editors. In the editors' case, it is because "seek ye first His Kingdom and His Righteousness," and His Kingdom is in the editors' case.

The editors' decision is likely to remain the editors without much change. It is not that the editors were answering the Zwinglians, but that the editors are answering the editors. Ronald K Nisbett is close to it.

In the New Testament, the editors' work is not even a little contrary to its interest in the editors. In the editors' case, it is because "seek ye first His Kingdom and His Righteousness," and His Kingdom is in the editors' case.

The editors' decision is likely to remain the editors without much change. It is not that the editors were answering the Zwinglians, but that the editors are answering the editors. Ronald K Nisbett is close to it.

In the New Testament, the editors' work is not even a little contrary to its interest in the editors. In the editors' case, it is because "seek ye first His Kingdom and His Righteousness," and His Kingdom is in the editors' case.

The editors' decision is likely to remain the editors without much change. It is not that the editors were answering the Zwinglians, but that the editors are answering the editors. Ronald K Nisbett is close to it.

In the New Testament, the editors' work is not even a little contrary to its interest in the editors. In the editors' case, it is because "seek ye first His Kingdom and His Righteousness," and His Kingdom is in the editors' case.

The editors' decision is likely to remain the editors without much change. It is not that the editors were answering the Zwinglians, but that the editors are answering the editors. Ronald K Nisbett is close to it.

In the New Testament, the editors' work is not even a little contrary to its interest in the editors. In the editors' case, it is because "seek ye first His Kingdom and His Righteousness," and His Kingdom is in the editors' case.

The editors' decision is likely to remain the editors without much change. It is not that the editors were answering the Zwinglians, but that the editors are answering the editors. Ronald K Nisbett is close to it.

In the New Testament, the editors' work is not even a little contrary to its interest in the editors. In the editors' case, it is because "seek ye first His Kingdom and His Righteousness," and His Kingdom is in the editors' case.

The editors' decision is likely to remain the editors without much change. It is not that the editors were answering the Zwinglians, but that the editors are answering the editors. Ronald K Nisbett is close to it.

In the New Testament, the editors' work is not even a little contrary to its interest in the editors. In the editors' case, it is because "seek ye first His Kingdom and His Righteousness," and His Kingdom is in the editors' case.

The editors' decision is likely to remain the editors without much change. It is not that the editors were answering the Zwinglians, but that the editors are answering the editors. Ronald K Nisbett is close to it.

In the New Testament, the editors' work is not even a little contrary to its interest in the editors. In the editors' case, it is because "seek ye first His Kingdom and His Righteousness," and His Kingdom is in the editors' case.

The editors' decision is likely to remain the editors without much change. It is not that the editors were answering the Zwinglians, but that the editors are answering the editors. Ronald K Nisbett is close to it.

In the New Testament, the editors' work is not even a little contrary to its interest in the editors. In the editors' case, it is because "seek ye first His Kingdom and His Righteousness," and His Kingdom is in the editors' case.

The editors' decision is likely to remain the editors without much change. It is not that the editors were answering the Zwinglians, but that the editors are answering the editors. Ronald K Nisbett is close to it.

In the New Testament, the editors' work is not even a little contrary to its interest in the editors. In the editors' case, it is because "seek ye first His Kingdom and His Righteousness," and His Kingdom is in the editors' case.

The editors' decision is likely to remain the editors without much change. It is not that the editors were answering the Zwinglians, but that the editors are answering the editors. Ronald K Nisbett is close to it.

In the New Testament, the editors' work is not even a little contrary to its interest in the editors. In the editors' case, it is because "seek ye first His Kingdom and His Righteousness," and His Kingdom is in the editors' case.
Toowoomba schools go co-ed

On the recommendation of the Toowoomba Church of England Schools Council, the Council of the diocese of Brisbane has agreed to a proposal from the Toowoomba Boys School to provide, from 1981, a girls' school as an integral part of the boys' school. The proposal will involve the conversion of Toowoomba Boys School into an integrated school for both boys and girls, with the boys and girls being taught in the same school, and the boys and girls being united in the diocese of Brisbane.

Guatemala expels bishop

The Rev. William C. Frye, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Guatemala, has been expelled from the country. Frye had been serving as bishop since 1970, and his expulsion comes after a series of controversies regarding his stance on human rights and his support for political opposition groups.

Christianity—world growth or decline?

The number of nominal Christians in the world is in the midst of the greatest period of expansion in history. The Church is expanding more rapidly than the population in all parts of the world. The growth of the Church is not limited to the traditional areas of Christianity, but is also occurring in the Muslim world and in other parts of the world where Christianity has not traditionally been strong.

Sydney Synod makes many important decisions

The first session of the 35th Synod of the diocese of Sydney which concluded on October 15 proved to be a turning-point on major issues which will affect the Church for the future.

CATHEDRAL

The question of the closure of the Cathedral was one of the most controversial issues discussed at the Synod. The Synod decided to keep the Cathedral open, but to make some changes to its structure and to allow for more flexibility in its use.

SCHOOLS

The Synod made several decisions regarding the future of the schools. These included the decision to close the school in the suburbs of Sydney, to reduce the number of students, and to make changes to the curriculum.

FLEXIBILITY

The Synod also discussed the issue of flexibility in the Church's structure. The Synod decided to allow for more flexibility in the Church's organization and to make changes to the way in which the Church is run.

TONGUES

The Synod passed a resolution on the issue of tongues, and this has been widely interpreted as a sign of the Church's commitment to the use of tongues in worship.

Bp Grindrod goes west

Bishop John Grindrod of Rockhampton went to Leongatha in October to chair a meeting of clergy and lay people from the five parishes in the west of the diocese.

For people who thought Answar was only car insurance

We have some good news.
We have seen a dramatic increase in the number of young people who are now thinking about the Church, and we are confident that this trend will continue in the future.

Christian writers confer at Ivanhoe

At an all day conference for Christian writers, held at St James Ivanhoe, Victoria, on Saturday the 14th of October, the following resolutions were passed by the conference:

- The conference resolved to support the work of the Australian Religious Liberty Council.
- The conference resolved to support the work of the Australian Council for Christian Education.
- The conference resolved to support the work of the Australian Council for Christian Education.

Thanksgiving service

The Pocket Testament League in St. Andrew's Cathedral, George Street, Sydney, on Sunday, 16th November, 1971.

To: Answar Insurance

From: John Doe

Subject: Insurance Policy

Dear Sir,

I am writing to inquire about the status of my insurance policy. I have a policy with Answar Insurance, and I would like to know if it has been renewed.

Sincerely yours,

John Doe.
Evangelistic outreach at St Jude’s Carlton

The 86-year-old St Jude’s Carlton in the heart of Melbourne held its annual meeting of the Friends of St Jude’s in conjunction with an evangelistic outreach on Sunday, October 8.

St Jude’s is part of the Inner City Ministry and its changing buildings block of residential apartments are now a feature, not just of the ministry, but of the city itself.

Mr. Binns finds that much of his work is to university and young adults who live in the area and in the parlour. The annual meeting on the Lord’s Day was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Binns on October 8.

Sunday, October 8, in Deaconess House, the Church of England Diocesan Deaconess Institution celebrated its 80th Birthday in the presence of the Governor of Victoria, the Right Hon. Sir Reginald J. B. Bultitude, and Mrs. Bultitude. The meeting took place the following day, October 9.

The Governor (Sir Edric Bastin), the Premier (Mr. Bethune), and the Archbishop of Canterbury (Dr. Andrews), and commanding the Air Force were at the 11 am service on October 8 at Deaconess House, the Church of England Diocesan Deaconess Institution.

The Governor, in his address, said that the Church of England Diocesan Deaconess Institution had been set up by Rev. John Warby, the first Vicar of St. Andrew’s, Northcote, since 1891, and that it had been given 12 months’ leave by the Bishop of Melbourne.

Rev. Lance Shilton of Adelaide was rector of St. Paul’s Church since 1953-63 when he retired, and died last year. Dr. Gary Andrews, the Superintendent of Lidcombe Hospital, said preparation for old age should begin in infancy. He said that the Church of England Diocesan Deaconess Institution had been set up by Rev. John Warby, the first Vicar of St. Andrew’s, Northcote, since 1891, and that it had been given 12 months’ leave by the Bishop of Melbourne.

JOE WILSON

30 years of service

Deaconess Institution meets

On Friday, 8th October, in Deaconess House, the Church of England Diocesan Deaconess Institution celebrated its 80th Birthday in the presence of the Governor of Victoria, the Right Hon. Sir Reginald J. B. Bultitude, and Mrs. Bultitude. The meeting took place the following day, October 9.

The Governor, in his address, said that the Church of England Diocesan Deaconess Institution had been set up by Rev. John Warby, the first Vicar of St. Andrew’s, Northcote, since 1891, and that it had been given 12 months’ leave by the Bishop of Melbourne.

Rev. Lance Shilton of Adelaide was rector of St. Paul’s Church since 1953-63 when he retired, and died last year. Dr. Gary Andrews, the Superintendent of Lidcombe Hospital, said preparation for old age should begin in infancy. He said that the Church of England Diocesan Deaconess Institution had been set up by Rev. John Warby, the first Vicar of St. Andrew’s, Northcote, since 1891, and that it had been given 12 months’ leave by the Bishop of Melbourne.

JOE WILSON

30 years of service

Deaconess Institution meets